Add Unit

Continue

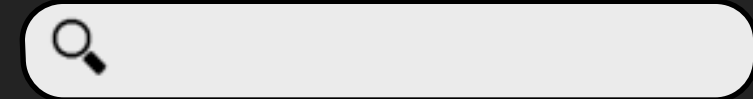

Adding a unit via the offline tool requires that you import files from MLS instead of allowing EQbuddy to automatically synchronize with the unit information on lds.org.

If you choose to add a unit this way, this unit will permanently be an offline-only unit. If you wish to use online features in the future, you will need to create a new unit via the online tool and transfer home teaching information from this unit to the new one.

Radar

Radar still under development.
It is intended to be a tool which brings attention to individuals who have gone from either high activity to low or the reverse.

Add Elders

By default attendance shows only elders that are allowed to home teach. To add an elder to this list go to his household's page in the people tab (  ) and change "Home Teaches?" to "Yes".

Alternatively you can add an elder to attendance who you do not wish to allow to home teach. Do you wish to continue?

Road Map

Write EQbuddy

Includes all features described in this presentation

Launch EQbuddy in your ward with you Bishop's approval

While testing / debugging in your ward, begin work on Digital Clipboard.

Following much work and church-wide acceptance begin work on EQ app.

Digital Clipboard

What it is

An app for tablets/phones that offers simple offline surveys written and read by EQbuddy. You pass the device around meetings instead of the clipboard.

Features

- Allow new members to register immediately

- Allow people to sign up for blood drives etc with scheduled reminders, perhaps via sync with lds.org

- Allow people to report home teaching

- Email html version of survey to primary / young men workers

What it is

An app for tablets/phones that offers customizable integration into your ward's elder's quorum.

Features

Elders input summary of time schedule and skills for use in service projects

Allow people to report home teaching / needs

Inbox has auto-expiring messages and categories: service, set up chairs, expires friday.
